WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 22.

"OII, CARRY ME BACK TO OLD VIRGINIA. A lady correspondent writes from New York to the Washington Patriot: Almost thirty years ago a gentleman from Boston was travelling through France in one of the old stages whose compartments were only obtained at considerable expense, and met as his fellow-passenger a gentleman whose general knowledge and easy chit-chat rendered the journey most pleasant. When the stage arrived the Bostonian disclosed his nationality, and Mozart eagerly asked him about the negro melodies, which he had till then vainly searched for. The gentleman was about leaving for his own home, but promised to bring Mozart all that he could gather of this music on his re-turn to France. He kept his word, and during the winter after his arrival the masquerades, just before Lent, were given with all the ele-gance which distinguished them at the time; for the nobility, and even members of the royal tamily, frequented the gay salons where Mozart led the orchestra. On this evening, at the end of the season of 184—, a new strain, full of tender pathos, seemed delicately interwoven with the overture. At first light and graceful, the music was charming, and then a wail that seemed to express a wild, passionate heart-cry, sounded, and the whole assembly, wild with enthusiasm, turned to Mozart, and, with one shout of applause, lifted the tone-master from his stand and bore him in triumph round the room. Is there a Southerner who can ever forget this air, or a Virginian who would require to be taught the notes of 'Oh, Carry Me Back to, Old Virginia Shore?' This old song of the South had charmed the maestro, and, grafting it upon his own individuality, he had thus inspired the brilliant circles of

THE SINGER FAMILY SEWING MA-CHINE. No other Family Machine has so rapidly won

The very large sales of this machine, as shown by official returns, far exceed those of any other company, and this fact or result has been owing to its real merits; hence its great and growing popularity. It is simple in construction, easily understood and merits; and construction, easily understood and merits over the desired of the construction. understood and easily operated. Any one who will examine the different machines claiming public attention can discover if we claim too much for ours. All we ask is a trial, for observation alone can justly convey a clear impression of the many kirds of work of which our new Family Machine is capable of doing. We publish no long list of references, but you can examine our books and choose for yourself. UNSETTLED WAR CLAIMS. AT ITS LAST SESSION CONGRESS, AS an amendment to the army appropriation bill, directed the President to appoint a commission to ascertain and adjust the claims of all loyal citizens in the South for Quartermaster and Commissary supplies furnished to the United States during the war. Under the head of quartermaster are included hay, straw, wood, rent of houses and lots, grain, horses and mules, &c. As commissary stores are included cattle and hogs, flour, corn meal, &c. As yet the rules which will be adopted by the commission con-cerning proof of loyalty and the furnishing of supplies are unknown. It is very necessary, however, that all claimants should have their claims presented at once, so as to have whatever benefit may result from priority of application, if any.

CHARLES WHITTLESEY, UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR IN BANKRUPTCY.

Congress having just amended the Bankrupt law so that nearly all parties can be discharged from their debts unobstructed by the fifty per cent. clause, so-called, another opportunity offers to secure the benefits of this most effective and permanent measure of relief. The above-named will make bankrupt business a specialty; will procure discharges on the most moderate terms, and transact all business in that line at prices which cannot fail to be satisfactory. Being United States Commissioner he will endeavor to visit the different counties on court days, and thus save parties the trouble and expense of several trips to Alexandria in beginning and proceeding with their cases. Discharges can be obtained with their cases. Discharges can be obtained here before Register Hill as promptly as in Rich-mond or elsewhere, and at much less expense to parties. It may be added that the Bankrupt act, in connection with the Homestead exemption, which it is now believed will be secured to the bankrupt under the bankrupt law, is the only real COMPANY,
